

AN INVITATION TO INVEST

MICHAEL COLLINS - A Musical Drama presents you with a significant opportunity to be an investor in an epic production that tells a tragic love story set against a rich canvas of war, the end of an era, and the birth of our nation. To date, significant investment has been made in developing the show between commissioning, workshops and performances in Cork Opera House and the Theatre Royal, Waterford. This investment has taken place in 2006, 2007 and 2008.

INVESTMENT REQUIREMENTS

We understand that investors in MICHAEL COLLINS – A Musical Drama will have 3 key requirements:

- 1) Excellent profit potential
- 2) Excellent return on investment
- 3) A desire to support the cultural life of Cork by investing in high quality, high profile theatre that is also commercially viable.

Cork Opera House is using an investment model that is employed with great success in the West End and on Broadway. Our objective is to provide a profitable investment opportunity which will see you benefit from the staging of the show when it begins its national tour. This is currently scheduled for March 2009 and will include Dublin, Derry and Galway. Further investment will allow us to develop this work-in-progress, enabling it to stand up as a production, and widen its tour circuit.

Share price INVESTMENT is €5,000 minimum.

In addition to the main focus on profitability, investors will also participate in the excitement of opening night press launches, complimentary tickets, meeting the cast etc.
